A Description of the four Quarters of the yeare. And first of Winter.

Q. in Yr. m. x.

THE Winter Quarter Astronomicall of this yeare 1617. (according to our English accompt) began the last yeare 1616. the xii. day of December: At which time, was the Brumall Solstice, or Shortest day in the yeare: which Winter continueth vntill the x. day of March following.

This Season of his owne naturall disposition, is knowne to be cold and moist, contrary to the quality of Sommer, whose enemy it may be iudged to be; for that it destroyeth those things which the warmth of the Sommer cherisheth and bringeth foorth.

Touching the temperature and state of this Quarter, I referre you to the dayly disposition of the Weather.

The Grieses that accompany this Season, and most invading & vexing mens bodyes within this Winter Revolution, are Feuers of diuers sortes, proceeding either of corrupt Blood, or raw crude Humors: Also Rheumes, Catarrs, Coughes, Harsenesse, loze Eyes, Dropsic, Headach, Toothach, paine in the Backe, Breast, Stomcke, and Lungen: afflicting young folkes, and people of the meaneer sorte.

Of the Second Quarter of the yeare, called the Spring.

◎ in v, v, ii.

The second Quarter of this common yeare called the Spring, taketh place euer more at the Sunnes entrance into Aries the æquinoctiall poynt, beeing this yeare the xi. day of March; making the artificiall day equall with the night: from thence, continuing vntill the xii. day of June immediatly ensuing; when it will begin to reviuue the most delectable Autumnall Revolution.

A Prognostication.

This season of his naturall quality, is hotte and moist, very temperate and healthfull : yet bingeth it, or rather sheweth soorth many Sickneses, not engendring them by accesse, but discouering such as were inwardly breedde by distemperature of other times: Touching the temprature thereof, you may see in the weathers dayly disposition.

The Grievess of this Quarter, may be these, of such like : namely, Madnesse, Melancholy, the Falling sicknesse, Angina, Fluxes of Blood, Coughes, Soles, Scabbes, Ach in the Joynts, Obstructions in the Lungen, Payne in the Head and Eyes, putred and Epidemicall Feuers, with some extraordynay and strange Diseases.

Of the third Quarter of the yeare, called the Sommer,

○ in ☉, ♐, ♑.

Summer (accompted the third part of the yeare Astronomical) beginneth at the Sunnes departure from the last degree of Gemini, into the beginning of Cancer ; at which time, he is in his nearest proximitie to our Verticall poynct, Dade. 1617.

poynt, making his greatest declination towrdes the North from the Equinoctiall, and causeth the longest day and shorkest night in the yeare.

This Quarter of the yeare, is euermore of condition hotte and dry, contrary vnto Winter: as in all mens iudgements it may appere.

Touching the Constitution of the Ayre herein, it may be seene in the dayly inclination of the weather.

The Sickneses of this Season, are generally hotte Feuers, Tertians, continual Agues, Plurisies, spitting of Blood, Inflammation of the Lunges, Dimnesse of sight, Swimming in the Head, Palsies, Ache in the Backe and Bones, soze Eyes, Goute, and the like.

Of the fourth Quarter of the yeare, called Autumne.

© in ☽, m, ♈.

AVtumne, or Haruest, the Post profitable time of the yeare, beginneth at the Sunnes entrance into the first minute of Libra: at which time is the Brumall æquinoctiall; the dayes and nights then being of equall length.

The disposition of this Quarter, is euermore to be inconstant and variable; by meanes whereof, it is the Nurse of most Sicknesse hapning in the the Spring: wherefore men ought to liue circumspectly therein, both for Diet, and other matters concerning health.

Touching the state and temperat ure of the Weather in this Quarter, you shall finde in the dayly inclination thereof.

The Diseases in this Quarter of the yeare, most likely to afflict the body, are quartane Agues, blacke Jaundies, Windinelle about the Midrife, Crampes, Stitches, Ach in the Toynts, the Gout, Sciatica, with other Sicknesse very grieuous. Seeke the counsell of the learned Physician at the beginning, soz feare of too late repenting.
